- Featured in over 200 unique publications

We organize our work into the following Pillars:

Policy:

Expanding the role of HBCC in early childhood education systems and allocating adequate resources to HBCC.

Movement Building & Messaging:

Building coalitions led by providers to shift public perception and ensure that policy makers, advocates, and the public recognize HBCC's value to children, families and communities.

Financing & Infrastructure:

Creating effective pathways and supporting providers and families via durable infrastructure, including networks, and sustainable financing that promotes economic stability.

Quality:

Articulating & advancing quality that reflects the unique strengths of HBCC through core practices, innovation, and measurement.

Key Initiatives

Leading From Home:

28 Provider Leaders participating across 15 states

In Cohort 1: 7 out of 8 provider leaders have:

- Reached out to elected representatives about HBCC
- Organized action events for their networks

Building Comprehensive Networks:

$400,000 invested by Home Grown has resulted in $18 million commitment of public funding to networks designed to serve home-based child care.

Thriving Providers Project:

100 FFN providers in CO participating

1 implementation site; 1 learning partner; 1 planning site; and 3 sites in the pipeline

Emergency Fund:

Today, three years later, Home Grown is:

A collaborative space for learning and sharing among funders who are committed to home-based child care;

An agile innovation lab exploring sticky issues and identifying new solutions;

An initiator addressing immediate gaps while building the capacity of partners to address these gaps and sustain this work over time.

Keys to our success:

Home Grown is structured as a funders collaborative with a nonprofit back-office. We have funder and provider governance structures and many resource and relational assets that contribute to our success, including the following:

- Providers leading the way
- Journey mindset
- Committed funders
- Dedicated and diverse team
- Meaningful partnerships
